

Name(s) of Oldest Competing Student(s) in Your Family _____

Their Age Division _____ Their Affiliation _____

Their Student Number(s) _____ Total Points Scored (out of 20) _____

Happy birthday, USA! And welcome to Thailand! Both countries have flags that are entirely red, white, and blue. There are exactly 20 other UN Member States which have flags that are entirely red, white, and blue (ie. there is no black outline, no yellow star, no orange [sorry, Marshall Islands]). How many can you name? You get up to 20 guesses. You score 1 point for each one correct, but minus 2 (!) for any incorrect, so you better be sure! Some countries have more than 1 version of their name that we will take as correct – any version of their name that we would accept in buzzer competition is fine here. Also, in case it wasn't clear, do not put the USA or Thailand as any of your answers (there are 22 such UN Member states, if we include them).

1. _____

11. _____

2. _____

12. _____

3. _____

13. _____

4. _____

14. _____

5. _____

15. _____

6. _____

16. _____

7. _____

17. _____

8. _____

18. _____

9. _____

19. _____

10. _____

20. _____